Who We Are

Passionate People Determined to Better the Lives of Those with CHDs

The Congenital Heart Alliance of Cincinnati is made up of a dedicated group of volunteers, most of whom have been affected personally by CHDs. We are loved ones, parents, or grandparents to children born with CHDs, adults surviving with CHDs, and medical practitioners who work tirelessly to care for those with CHDs.

Our Mission

To inspire heartfelt hope in patients and families impacted by congenital heart defects, as well as the medical practitioners that care for them, through the funding of groundbreaking research, global collaboration, and holistic well-being initiatives.

Our Vision

Overcome congenital heart defects.

Why we walk

Each year, 1 in 100 babies are born with Congenital Heart Disease. CHD is the life-long consequence of a heart defect, or a structural abnormality of the heart present at birth. It is the most common birth defect. This year, in the U.S. alone, 40,000 babies will be born with CHD. Of those, 25% will undergo life-saving open heart surgery or other interventions to survive. While there is much hope, and survival rates have climbed in the last 20 years, there is no cure. CHD requires a lifetime of specialized care. Currently, there are more adults living with CHD than children. There is still much we do not understand about CHD, what causes it, and how to prevent it. The 2024 Congenital Heart Alliance of Cincinnati- Heart & Sole Walk will help raise much needed funds, awareness and support for our families navigating this journey.
